

Rivale 52 - 2006

Boat ID: 3802

Date: September 2, 2019

Rivale may turn out to be the enfant terrible of the Riva family. Its name certainly predicts spirit and strong character. However it is not just a question of name.

Rivale has a unique, razor-sharp outline. Its heart is elegant and inviting, made of sophisticated woods and fabrics. The internal design is a fusion of elegance and sobriety, featuring congenial living solutions. Rivale comes in the ideal sizes for the boat owner who wants to sail and enjoy a boat, and for those who wish to experience the sea in full comfort while in a complete privacy (that is why the crew cabin is preset to be used also as a guest cabin).

It is perfect for those who expect to be able to count on complete reliability from a boat, together with actual simplicity of use.
